

STEM Club workshops

The Ogden Trust is working in partnership with STEM Learning to offer a series of FREE STEM Club workshops to secondary schools in London. Each workshop will be delivered virtually over two one-hour sessions, and will include practical activities, and opportunities to network and share best practice.

The series includes workshops for schools that are establishing new STEM Clubs and for those looking for new inspiration to help existing clubs survive and thrive.

The workshops are for teachers or technicians at London secondary schools, sixth form colleges and FE colleges with KS3, KS4 or KS5 provision. All secondary schools and colleges that attend the workshops will receive practical resources to use for STEM Club activities.
